Be a part of DOPS.

DOPS is recognized as one of the oldest self-administered First Nation Police services in Canada and maintains province-wide jurisdiction. We presently provide policing services and community development to five First Nation communities.

We are looking for men and women to serve in the Dakota Ojibway Police Service.

This is a unique opportunity for you to contribute to the strength of First Nations through crime prevention, law enforcement, and community involvement.

Have you got what it takes?

- Understanding of First Nations culture, values, customs and tradition.
- 18 years or older
- Grade 12 or equivalent GED
- Class IV driver's license
- Meet all DOPS physical and psychological standards
- Meet all DOPS security standards
- Canadian citizen or landed immigrant
